KENT, Ohio (September 29, 2009) - “Kids 4 Coleman,” the group of seven cousins who worked over the summer to raise money for Coleman Adult Day Services, recently presented the results of their labors to the Coleman Foundation. These young people combine energy, enthusiasm and fun with a genuine compassion for helping others. They organized and put on various fundraising events including “Build a Team” bowling night at Kent Lanes, Applebee’s “Dining to Donate,” a “Shopping Extravaganza” at Vale Edge Florist and Hallmark, and a “Dessert Extravaganza” which was held at the Coleman Adult Day Services Center on North Chestnut Street in Ravenna. The total raised from those various events was an impressive $5,670.39. They chose Coleman Adult Day Services to honor their grandparents, Rosemarie and Stephen Mandalari. The Mandalaris, who now use the services provided at Coleman Adult Day, have long exemplified working to help others.
