COLEMAN PROFESSIONAL SERVICES HIRES KENT STATE UNIVERSITY GRADUATE STUDENT

MBA Student to fill Public Relations Internship Position until August

KENT, Ohio (June 3, 2008) - Coleman Professional Services recently hired Ryan Fernandes as their summer public relations intern. His responsibilities will include: fundraising support, improving marketing publications and working with the adult day program.

Fernandes has a Bachelor's of Science degree from Bowling Green State University and is enrolled at Kent State University for a Masters of Business Administration.

Fernandes has held several environmental education jobs as a naturalist intern at the Indiana Dunes Environmental Learning Center, part of the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore and at the Cleveland Metroparks Zoo as a camp counselor.

"I think the most important thing I learned from my experiences was how to deal with a wide range of people. I like to give back to my community, and because of these experiences, I became interested in working at Coleman," Fernandes said.

The company relies on an enterprise business model to diversify its funding.
