For more than 15 years, the team at Don Joseph Toyota in Kent, Ohio, has helped area children and adults dealing with mental health, rehabilitation and addiction issues through its support of Coleman Professional Services. This nationally recognized nonprofit organization provides behavioral health and rehabilitation programs to individuals, families and businesses in Northeast Ohio.

"Don Joseph Toyota has been one of our most reliable partners," says Nelson Burns, Coleman's President and Chief Executive Officer. "Over the years, they have been key to us and our work in many different ways."

The dealership is a primary sponsor of the Right at Home art benefit, an annual fund-raising gala that is one of Coleman's primary sources of revenue. In addition to supporting the group's Educator of the Year Awards, which recognize area teachers for their sensitivity toward students dealing with mental health issues, Don Joseph Toyota also helps underwrite an annual banquet held in honor of Coleman employees and volunteers.

"Coleman is dedicated to finding treatment for all people, regardless of their ability to pay," says Joe Marken, a dealership Sales Manager who once served on the Coleman Foundation Board. "And their programs educate all of us on how to better deal with these important issues."

DON JOSEPH TOYOTA
