COLEMAN VOLUNTEER WINS 2007 MTV AWARD

RAVENNA, Ohio (April 4, 2008) –Duane McClintock travels by bus three days a week to Coleman Adult Day Services where he volunteers and assists older adults suffering from cognitive or physical limitations. He was honored with four other individuals out of a possible 200 nominees at the 95th Annual Public Luncheon Meeting sponsored by The Center for Community Solutions at the Cleveland Convention Center.

“Duane is a real crowd pleaser, greeting every man with a giant pat on the back and every lady with a kiss on the hand. He finds ways to make each individual feel special-at monthly socials he makes it a point to dance with every lady in attendance,” Coleman Professional Services Volunteer Coordinator, Jennifer Wallace said. “We are so very lucky to have Duane as one of our most treasured volunteers, and we are very happy to share in his excitement of this great honor.”

Duane is also the founder of the “Hard Hat Men’s Club,” a group of men who meet monthly during the women’s “Red Hat’s Tea Party.” This “Gentle Giant” donated his used visual aid projector to help those at the center read. Though legally blind and suffering from a chronic respiratory condition, Duane sees the needs of others and continually puts them first.
