COLEMAN DATA SOLUTIONS: DOCUMENT MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS BY A STATE USE INTEGRATED WORKFORCE

AKRON, Ohio (August, 2007) – Based on Sanitarium Rd. in Akron, Ohio, Coleman Data Solutions, formerly SAGE Computers, is the largest data management organization in Ohio in operation for nearly 20 years. In addition to providing total document processing solutions, a strategic part of the delivery of the services involves administering training programs aimed at widening employment and skill development opportunities for persons with disabilities. Coleman Data Solutions operates as one of five enterprises under their parent company, Coleman Professional Services, a nonprofit enterprise providing mental and behavioral health services, which is entering its 30th year of service.

Robert Ward, a nine-year employee, and contributing author to Sharing Ideas, has an existing disability. With skilled training and the support of Coleman Data Solutions, he now meets and exceeds his expectations at both Coleman Data Solutions and in his personal life as well. To paraphrase Robert, “If there’s anybody who has a disability or challenge, they should definitely consider Coleman Data Solutions as they’ll work with the person and find some type of work for them.” The human resource manager, Phillip Jackson at 330.644.8899, is pleased to discuss all potential employment opportunities.

Coleman Data Solutions has received several awards of achievement including an Achievement Award by the State of Ohio Rehabilitation Services Commission, the "Mayor's Citation" in Canton, Ohio, "Large Employer of the Year Award" by the Ohio Rehabilitation Services Commission and the "Employer of the Year" award by Goodwill Rehabilitation Center.
